

WORLD WAR VETERAN TAKES OWN LIFE

C. Marshall Schofield Shoots
Self Four Times

WAS SHELL SHOCKED

Served Overseas in Ambulance Corps
—Deceased Was Popular Citizen—
Funeral 10 O'clock Monday

While standing at the northwest corner of King and Washington streets at 4:35 o'clock yesterday afternoon C. Marshall Schofield, thirty-two years old, unmarried, a world war veteran, fired four bullets into his body dying instantly. The deceased was alone at the time and the streets were thronged with shoppers and persons enroute from work. The tragedy attracted a large throng.

According to witnesses to the shooting he first fired three bullets into his stomach and then the fourth into his right temple, falling dead as he fired the fourth. The weapon was a new Iver-Johnson 32 caliber pistol which he only purchased yesterday.

For some time past Schofield had been under the surveillance of friends, and only yesterday was out in an automobile with a salesman whom he left about 3:30 o'clock. The next heard of him was his death.

Immediately following the shooting Policeman Haywood Durrer arrived and the body was taken to Wheatley's mortuary chapel. In the meantime Dr. R. Lee Wilkins, who was passing, arrived and pronounced life extinct.

The body afterward was viewed by Dr. E. A. Gorman, acting coroner, and he deemed an inquest unnecessary.

At the outbreak of the war Schofield responded to the call to the colors and joined the ambulance corps and received his training at Allentown, Pa., and while training at that place he sustained a broken arm which resulted in a partial paralysis of the left side.

After he went overseas he was assigned to duty with a French division and he was slightly gassed and also suffered from shell shock.

The deceased as a result of his harrowing experiences in driving the motor vehicles on the battlefields suffered from nervousness. Mr. Schofield it is stated by his friends also had brooded over his inability to get the War Risk Insurance Bureau to adjust his pay claim, he having appeared before them in person in February and March in the interest of its adjustment.

For a number of years he was a traveling salesman. Mr. Schofield was one of the founders of the Alexandria Coffee Company and also served as a salesman for the R. J. Reynolds Tobacco Company and for a number of years was employed as traveling salesman for Charles King and Son Company. The deceased was one of the most popular young men of the city and enjoyed a wide circle of friends who were shocked at his tragic end.

He was a son of Mr. and Mrs. D. Webster Schofield and lived with his parents at 918 Cameron street. His father at the time was just returning over the road from Garfield Hospital, Washington, where he had been under treatment for the past two weeks and Mr. Schofield was accompanied by his wife. They received the news immediately upon their arrival.

Besides his parents Mr. Schofield is survived by two sisters and a brother, Miss Virginia Schofield, this city; Mrs. Benjamin Watkins of Middleburg, Va., and John Schofield, of Bozeman, Montana.

The deceased was a member of Alexandria-Washington Lodge No. 22, Masons, Mount Vernon Chapter, Royal Arch Masons, Old Dominion Commandery, Knights Templar, Acacia Temple, Mystic Shrine and the Scottish Rite Masonic Bodies, being a thirty-second degree Mason. He also was a member of Alexandria Post, American Legion and the Reliance Fire Engine Company.

His funeral will take place at 10 o'clock Monday morning from his late residence. Services will be conducted by Rev. Dr. E. B. Jackson, pastor of the First Baptist Church and burial will be in Bethel cemetery. The funeral will be attended by the Masonic fraternity, members of the American Legion, members of the Reliance Fire Company and burial will be private and will be with Masonic honors. The members of the American Legion will wear their uniforms. Pallbearers will be selected from the various organizations of which he was a member and also from the firm of King and Son Inc.

SALVATION ARMY

Evincing the keenest desire to aid the Salvation Army in its work of rehabilitating the poor and destitute of their communities representative business men of Winchester, Frederickburg, Ashland, Waverly, Suffolk, Harrisonburg and Clifton Forge have been appointed members of the Community Advisory Board in these cities. These Advisory Boards will aid the army by bringing to its attention all cases of poverty, desertion, neglected juvenile delinquency, etc., that come to their notice and which may be promptly handled by the army with out interference or trespassing on the grounds of any other charitable organization in the community.

Field Directors Perrine, Stegman, Guerin, Herbert, Digerry and Mrs. Mary T. Wishman, who aided in forming the boards at these places report that there is widespread appreciation of the activities of the army during the war and since, and that this interest has been heightened by the Advisory Board plan which will function as a form of community "Social Insurance." The plan was put into operation last year in the twenty-four western states of the Union, where 30,000 representative business men, clergyman, and other civic leaders undertook the Advisory Board duties in the 2,000 towns where the plan was put into effect.

The results have been "highly gratifying," and as a consequence it was determined to put the plan into effect in the eastern part of the country this year where industrial conditions have materially increased the need for mental, physical and spiritual support that the army has rendered during its career for forty years. It is hoped that through the Advisory Board plan many additional cases of destitute will be properly cared for and that the army will be able to extend its institutional services into every part of Virginia.

Street Sweeping

To Be Done Every Saturday Night
—To Arrest All Who Throw Trash

The summer schedule of sweeping King street at night will begin at 1 o'clock tonight by a force of men under the direction of City Engineer Donn's office. This schedule will be maintained every Saturday night here after during the summer months.

Heretofore the streets have been swept on Saturday during the day and on Sunday morning when they appeared as dirty as ever in most cases.

Mayor Duncan today gave orders to Chief Goeds to have all persons arrested and haled into court Monday who sweep paper and trash into the streets after the street cleaners finish. The police tonight expect to arrest a number of persons who it is alleged have been guilty of this practice. In each case it is announced fines will be imposed and no one who violates the law will be excused. In this way the city officials hope to have King and Royal streets, both of which are to be swept at night, clean every Sunday.

BRIEF FILED WITH I.C.E. IN RATE CASE

Attorneys For People Declare Increase Fare Would Be Injurious

ARGUMENTS APRIL 20

Attorneys Against Increase on W. Va., Line Say Public Should Not Pay More Than Its Just Burden

(Special to The Gazette)

Washington, D. C., April 2.—Upward revision of the rate structure between Alexandria and Washington will work injuriously to the business interest of Alexandria it is declared in a brief filed with the Interstate Commerce Commission today by Conrad Syme, for the Commuters' Association of Alexandria and James R. Caton for the Alexandria chamber of commerce. "Heretofore rates on the Washington-Virginia Railway between Washington and Alexandria have been an inducement to persons living in Washington to locate in and about Alexandria, the brief points out, declaring that any raise in rates will injuriously effect the business interests of Alexandria.

Increased rates recently asked by the company on which oral hearing has been held before Examiner Mackin of the Interstate Commerce Commission would increase the company's net revenue by $185,000 annually the brief points out, adding that the company's estimates are based on four hypotheses, "none of which may pan out to be true in fact and all of which probably are far from the fact which the future may establish.

"The first hypothesis is that if increased rates are allowed the number of revenue passengers carried will decrease ten per cent entailing a loss of about $100,000 a year to the company; the second is that labor cost will remain the same."

The brief claims that if wages are reduced a saving of about $100,000 a year will result to the company.

The third hypothesis is that cost of material will be the same and the fourth hypothesis is that it is up to the public to make good the interest on the bonded indebtedness of $50,000,000 and about $500,000 of outstanding securities payable by the company.

The previous increase of ten per cent allowed the road in 1919 by the Interstate Commerce Commission is reviewed in the brief which points out that under the increase the use of the twenty-five trip ticket more than doubled and that the number of revenue passengers did not decrease. The brief says a result of the present application would be to compel the use of but two classes of tickets, either a straight round trip ticket or a fifty-two trip ticket, with no provision for those who use less transportation than that provided by the fifty-two trip ticket.

Total operating expenses of road in 1920 were $824,000 of which about $350,000 was spent in maintenance, $320,000 in cost of transportation and about $100,000 for general expenses.

The brief admits that if any increase is allowed it should be distributed in proper proportion among the flat rate, the twenty-five trip ticket and the fifty-two trip communication ticket. It says the railway is an important factor in the development of Alexandria and its business interest and prosperity and says that there can be no question that the growth and population and development of the business facilities of Alexandria are due to the fact rates between Washington and Alexandria have been an inducement to persons in Washington to come to Alexandria. In closing the brief says there are three interests to be considered, the holders of the bonded indebtedness of the company, the stockholders and the public.

The company should be in a position to lay before the Interstate Commerce Commission a full showing as to cash in railway and equipment outstanding obligations, so that the public may not be called upon to contribute more than its just share of the burdens "that should be equitably distributed among those who rightfully should bear it."

The railway company it is expected, will file its brief on Monday. The Interstate Commerce Commission will review both briefs, and on April 20 will hear oral arguments on the case.

Railroad Men See Pictures—Ladies Gym Class

"Flashes of Action," the war picture shown to railroadmen and their families at the Mt. Vernon School house last night, drew a splendid crowd, and very much delighted those present. The railroad Y. M. C. A., was in charge.

This actual war picture which is the greatest feature film the government releases for public audiences, takes the spectator through "flashes" of the entire war from the beginning to the Pershing parade in Washington. The last reel had many familiar scenes to delight those present.

Secretary Wallace, of the Y. M. C. A., spoke briefly on the Association and its purposes, explaining the work that had been done at the Potomac yards during the past few months, and the plans for the future. Twenty health talks and nine religious addresses have been given in the machine shop, and transfer shed offices. In addition to this magazines have been furnished the train crews that lay over at the yards.

The Potomac Yards Y. M. C. A., is getting well organized and other meetings are planned for the future. The meeting last evening was held under the auspices of the educational committee which will cooperate with the other committees in social and athletic work. Miss Virginia Proctor was at the piano and furnished excellent music throughout the showing of the film.

The educational committee of the Ladies' Auxiliary of the Y. M. C. A., announces the opening session of the women's gymnasium class at the Young Peoples' Building, Monday evening, April 4, at 8 o'clock. The costume for those attending the class will be soft soled shoes, black stockings, dark bloomers and white middie blouse.

The committee also announces that prospective students of the course will be welcome Monday night and urges all registered students to be present whether they have their costume completed or not, as the first lesson will be given at that time. The course will be ten lessons. The class will be limited to forty members.

Bargains Ready

Varied Assortment For National Prosperity Week Starting Monday

The biggest and most varied assortment of genuine bargains ever offered the buying public of Alexandria will be placed on sale for the week beginning Monday by the merchants of this city. This will mark the celebration of the National Prosperity Week. The merchants of this city in common with those everywhere in the United States, have planned to induce the public to buy. The result has been a national movement in the reduction of the high cost of living. Downward prices in practically every line of merchandise on sale is the slogan of the merchants.

This opportunity any never come again, as some of the articles to be placed on sale that week the prices will be below cost. This is in line to start the public buying once more. No more high prices, but genuine bargains.

The spring goods have recently been received by the merchants and the process to give the buying public the benefit of all new goods at greatly reduced prices. Whether or not you contemplate buying, it will pay you to visit the stores any day this week and see what bargains are offered by the merchants for this big event.

Fake Divorce Mill Yamps
Lured Husbands From Home

White Plains, N. Y., April 2.—Ten girls, each schooled in the art of yamping, comprised the "divorcing staff" of Herbert F. Miller, sought as the operator of a Manhattan divorce mill, according to information given by District Attorney Lee Davis here yesterday.

Mr. Davis had just interviewed a "lark" formerly employed by the "Divorce Magnate," who explained the operation of the mill. When gists was to be turned out, the clerk said Miller would select the girl best calculated to win a place in the good graces of the husband "esigned against and give her an "assignment."

HIGH SCHOOL NOTES

Work began Wednesday on the track. The progress this far has been excellent. Inside of fifteen days we hope and expect to have a track to be proud of as Alexandria High School. The squad that is out is showing up fine in the breaking in. Midkiff seems to be leading in the distance work as well as in the dashes. Moore, Cockey and Myers also are doing well on the distance runs, while Suthard, Midkiff and Moore are running well in sprints. The weight men have not been out much. Pohl, Wade, Oliver and Pettit are showing form with shot. Poly vaulting, discus, and the jumping events will start next week.

Senor Francisco de Coraavello, a talented musician, was kind enough to favor the High School students with a piano concert Wednesday. He held the entire student body spellbound through several wonderful selections. He then turned up the jazz. He made every one want to dance right away. He closed his program with a wonderful rendering of our national anthem. The student body then rose and gave him a vote of thanks, and cordially invited him to come again as soon as possible.

Wednesday afternoon Dr. J. T. Ashton gave a lecture, the third of a series, on the "teeth." Dr. Ashton has been very kind to the high school by giving up part of his weekly recreation time to tell the boys and girls how to take care of the mouth and teeth. I am sure that we appreciate this kindness very much.

The girls basket ball team played in Fredericksburg last night. We have not yet heard the outcome of this game. This was the last game of their season. It is said that the boys will give them their basket ball supper some time in the near future.

Miss Garvin, Mr. Hall and Mr. Knight attended the district teachers meeting in Leesburg Friday. Charles "Mike" Houston.

BOMB GANG KNOWN IN WALL STREET PLOT

Chief Flynn Declares U. S. is Now Pressing Hunt

DEFER REWARD BOOST

Some of Radicals Have Left Country And Search Is World Wide—Department of Justice Mum

New York, April 2.—Important facts in possession of Federal and municipal authorities bearing on the solution of the mystery surrounding the Wall street bomb explosion of September 16, 1920, were made known here yesterday from two official sources.

William J. Flynn, Chief of the Bureau of Investigation of the Department of Justice, stated that the perpetrators had been identified weeks ago by agents of the department as members of the same radical group of plotters responsible for the bomb outrages of 1919 in various Eastern cities and that a vigorous international hunt for them is in progress.

This announcement was substantiated by a statement before the Board of Estimate by Maurice E. Connelly, President of the Borough of Queens, who urged delay of the proposal to increase the reward from $10,000 to $50,000.

"The mystery may be entirely solved," he said, "by the time the special committee to be appointed by Mayor Hylan is ready to report on the proposition of increasing the reward."

The Borough President, in explaining his stand, declared the authorities "are well on the way toward solving" the mystery. They "are knowing of the driver of the wagon which carried the explosives," he added. "They know more about this case than they care to tell the public now. Anything we may do now might interfere with their plans."

Washington, April 2.—Officials of the Department of Justice declined last night to comment upon the statement in New York of William J. Flynn, chief of the Bureau of Investigation, that he has knowledge of the perpetrators of the Wall street bomb explosion of last September. All information on the subject is in his possession, they added, and he has not submitted a report to the department. According to Attorney General Daugherty, the matter has never been taken up by Mr. Flynn with him.

Raid Poker Game

Thirteen Captured And They Forfeit Total of $130

A raid on a poker game on King street shortly before 10 o'clock last night resulted in the capture of 13 white men and yielded the city a total of $130, all of the participants in the game having forfeited $10 each and the alleged proprietor the sum of $20.

The raid was quite a surprise to the poker players and there was no chance of escape, so completely surprised were the men.

Some of the men the police declare gave fictitious names. The raid was conducted by Chief Goeds, Sergeant Wilkinson, Sergeant Campbell and Policemen Durrer and Magnus.

The action of the Postmaster General Hays in calling into conference the postmasters of some of the big cities of the country will be generally approved as indicating an improvement in the mail service. Mr. Hays has an opportunity before him to do a great service to the nation by facilitating the collection, transportation and delivery of the mails. The service is not what it should be, as every person knows, due to the effects of the war. If the new Postmaster General devotes his time and energy to improving the service instead of to playing politics he will help matters materially.

It is common knowledge that while the war was in progress the postal service deteriorated. That was unavoidable. Men and women gave up their government positions to accept jobs in private employment at greatly increased pay. In some postoffices it was practically impossible to retain sufficient force to transact the business of the office and there is not a city in the country which did not suffer as a consequence.

The curtailment of train service and the cutting of many trains also interfered with the prompt transmission of the mails. In fact the Postoffice Department had a large number of conditions to contend with, all contributing to a lowering of the efficiency of the service. Young Mr. Hays comes to the head of the department full of ginger and ambition to accomplish something. Here is his chance. The Republicans have been liberal with their criticisms and suggestions. Let them show the country some constructive improvement.

The Harding administration adopted another policy of President Wilson when Secretary of State Hughes announced that this government approved American bankers joining in the consortium with Great Britain, France and Japan to advance loans for the development of China. The consortium was formed under the protection of the State Department in the last administration and Secretary Hughes has notified the American interests affected that they will have the support of this government.

Participation by the United States in this movement to develop the natural resources of China and modernize that country will result in advantages for American products and American brains and genius. Secretary Hughes declares that there must be equal opportunity for all, but this amounts merely to restating the open door policy which has come to be recognized by all nations.

China has not recently displayed a great eagerness to take advantage of the loans offered her by the consortium but there is little doubt that she will do so in the future, for with the awakening of that great country has come a republic to take the place of the old monarchy and with it a yearning for modern ideas. There are railroads and bridges to be constructed, up-to-date buildings to be erected and a great program of public improvements to be carried out in connection with the natural resources of the land. After many centuries China is aroused and is ambitious to take her place among the powers.

SPRING REDUCTION IN PRICES ON COAL:

We are today reducing our prices on both Anthracite and Bituminous coal and will be glad to enter orders for Spring delivery.

The mines claim their present prices are as low as their cost of production will permit and that Anthracite coal will be higher by Fall.

The preparation and the quality of the coal we are now receiving is better than it has been for several years.

The freight is still high but there seems very little likelihood of a reduction shortly.

We have been able to reduce our cost of handling and our trade gets the benefit of this saving.

It is not possible for us to know whether this is the best time to buy your winters coal, but we are sure that a reasonable tonnage will have to be mined, transported and delivered through the Spring and Summer months to avoid a coal shortage and high prices next Fall and Winter.

SPECIAL NOTICE

We are making an offer to the people of the Rosemonts to give expert yearly care to the street trees for an annual charge of fifty cents per tree. This includes at least one careful trimming and as many sprayings as may be necessary. We will also care for the trees in event of sudden injury or decline and replace any that may die at actual cost.

It is especially desirable to maintain symmetry of growth and to do all possible to keep the trees healthy from the standpoint of property values, and by placing this matter in the hands of experts, the owner is relieved of all trouble and improvement will be noticed after the first treatment.

We must necessarily have the owners cooperation in starting this movement, and we respectfully request all interested parties to communicate with us at the earliest possible opportunity.

In event that we receive enough responses to prove a community interest in this matter, we will take immediate steps to explain our offer personally.

BISHOP DECLARES JAIL PLACE FOR 'STYLISH' GIRLS

Grand Rapids, Mich., April 2.—Addressing the graduates of the Kent County School of Religious Education, Bishop Theodore S. Henderson, of Detroit, said popular styles of the present time were far from modest.

"The styles," he said, "are unfit for Christian persons to follow. The time is ripe for Christians to create the styles and permit others to follow in their trail. There are a lot of women and girls who would rather be in jail than out of style. I say they should be put in jail for daring to follow present styles of dress."
